

REPUBLICANS MUST HUSTLE

Work Necessary
To Win The Day.

ALL MUST HELP
IN THE CAMPAIGN

Speakers in the Second Precinct
Sound the Warning
Note.

A note of warning was sounded last night to all the Republicans on the Island of Oahu. At the meeting of the Second Precinct of the Fourth District held on the baseball grounds at 8 o'clock, the leaders called attention to the apathy shown by the exclusive 400 of the party in not attending the precinct meetings.

The chairman and the speakers who stood under the bulging ceiling of the big tent expressed their sorrow that so many of the party were not present. The work of the campaign to devote upon a few, they made fun of the men who stood upon street corners and told each other how the Republican party was going to win in the November election, and said that they were sure of a Republican victory all over the islands.

Chairman J. Harry Fisher said he was ashamed of the showing made by the Second Precinct. Of the 42 members enrolled on the list only twenty-nine were present, while the exclusive "400" stayed away.

"Work" was the watchword adopted at the little meeting last night. "Work or the Republican party will be defeated," was the general substance of all the speeches.

One speaker said there was always a tendency among Anglo-Saxons to underestimate the strength of their enemies. A number of speakers predicted defeat unless the party's supporters made a personal campaign and carried the fight into the enemy's camp.

It was a drizzling, rainy night, and this perhaps kept many indoors. But there were many who came long distances and said they had given up business engagements in order to be present when their precinct leader called them.

Chairman Fisher stated, in opening the meeting, that it was called primarily for the purpose of choosing an enrollment committee, to round up the voters and get them to register. He said there were about 4,500 names already registered, of which about 2,500 were natives and about 1,000 haoles. The whites, he said, were extremely slow and apathetic in enrolling themselves as qualified voters. The meeting showed with what diffidence the "stay-at-homes" viewed the campaign.

Instead of choosing an enrollment committee of three or four, he appointed all present to act as a committee of one each to cause every white man they knew to register.

William Haywood, former United States Consul General, made a stirring speech on the duty which the rank and file of the Republicans owed to their party. It was a poor Republican, he said, who would not attend his precinct meetings, and this was especially brought to his attention by the absence of the exclusive "400." He thought the chairman did well to appoint all present as an enrollment committee. There was nothing good done in the world without work and plenty of it. The party members would have to get out and hustle, and hustle hard for the next few weeks. There were 418 at the primaries, and as yet few appeared in the field for work. In the cities on the Mainland they believed in brass bands and torchlight processions, and here there was much good in it. Brass bands and torchlight processions did not explain the principles of the party, but they were as necessary as the printed ballot in making success certain. He was in favor of calling out the brass bands to arouse enthusiasm every night.

He had found in politics that the man who was not a candidate could do more good with certain people than anybody else, because people would listen more attentively to them than to the candidates.

J. H. Pearce expressed similar sentiments. He wanted to see work and hard work done in the coming campaign. There was too much lethargy apparent on every side. The meeting was called to urge the carrying on of the work of registering citizens who had so far neglected their duty.

W. A. Marshall said the Republicans of the precinct were not taking the interest in the party's campaign that they should. If proper campaigning was not carried on the party would go down to defeat. He was a Republican who would cast his first vote in November as an American citizen and he expressed a hope that others who would be able to cast their first vote would not shirk their duty at the registration booths.

Will E. Fisher said he had been around Honolulu for about two years and had not found any better Republican here than himself. He felt that somebody was derelict and did not take proper interest in the welfare of the party.

"You are not doing your work," exclaimed Fisher sternly. "You will lose if you don't get into the harness and pull. The showing that is being made by the opposition is better well done and with little experience. You have got to do hard work or you are going to lose this fight. That is my honest opinion."

"The candidates have learned how to do the campaign handshake properly, and they think they are going to be elected. I tell you they will get left if you don't get out and do better work. Our meeting tonight is an example of the laxity of campaigning in this precinct."

"Why, gentlemen, I would come to my precinct meeting if I had to come in my pajamas if necessary to be on hand. There is not enough whooping going on. A few men are now doing the electioneering. The rank and file are not here. You have got to adopt a more aggressive policy if you wish to be assured of success. I have had more than ten minutes' political experience in my lifetime and know how these things run. You ought to bring in your neighbors. If you can't do that, bring in the Democrats and the Independents."

"Get out and work on those who have already registered and convince them all that they ought to vote the Republican ticket. Make them throw down their petty differences of the past. Make them vote the Republican ticket from A to Z. This is the main fight."

"How do we win elections in the big cities on the Coast? By having big precinct meetings and by whooping her up, as the speakers say. Tell everybody who you are going to vote for. When I cast my ballot it will be done so that everybody can tell who I am voting for."

"As for Bryan, I met him at the Trans-Mississippi Congress before he became famous as the Democratic leader. It was at Ogden, Utah. John P. Irish and Senator Stewart of Nevada had their great debate on silver. That convinced me which party I belonged to in the Presidential fight. Bryan did not take any prominent part in that debate, and from the time he became a Presidential candidate I did not believe he would be elected, and I can tell you now that I don't believe he will ever be elected."

"I believe Samuel Parker will be elected. He is the best man. Get out and work and do your best to knock out our friends, the Independents."

Forace Wright announced his allegiance to the party of Lincoln in language that brought him applause. "I have been a Republican since 1923 and I had the honor of voting for that grand man, though defeated, James G. Blaine," said Wright. After advising those present to register and secure the registration of all whites who had not yet done so, the chairman closed the meeting.

That the merchants of the city are determined in their stand against the manner of doing business shown by some commercial travelers who have been coming to Hawaii since the islands became a Territory is evidenced by the signed agreement which they have prepared, whereby they promise to refuse further business to them.

This letter is of considerable length, and goes fully into the reasons of this stand. It is as follows:

Whereas: The Hawaiian Islands have a very limited area, and a total population of 120,000, of whom only 15,000 are of the white races, thus limiting the consuming classes and the amount of possible trade;

Whereas: There are practically no cities and towns other than Honolulu and Hilo; all other settlements being mere adjuncts to some individual plantation or landing, scarcely ever reaching the importance of a small village;

Whereas: The great distance from the main or other land, limits the area in which we may dispose of merchandise, and renders overstocking quite possible, which possibility is now increased;

Whereas: We are obliged to carry heavy lines of goods, both in quantity and variety;

Whereas: Certain manufacturing wholesale and jobbing houses located in the States, who are constantly soliciting and receiving in a greater or less degree our patronage, have chosen in some instances to establish in the Hawaiian Islands local representatives, and others send traveling men to every hamlet and country store soliciting trade, and at the same time ask our favors and patronage.

Whereas: The same parties, instead of adjusting themselves to the trade conditions of the islands, are pursuing a policy that can do them little ultimate good, but are producing only demoralization;

Whereas: Certain of these parties are, in their ignorance, sending their lowest quotations broadcast to the most trifling dealers to such an extent that it is not only injurious but ridiculous;

Whereas: We believe there are certain well defined and recognized principles of business that are being violated in a manner by the parties referred to, destructive to all business welfare, and which, they themselves would not submit to in their own territory;

Therefore, We, the undersigned wholesale merchants and manufacturers, and others on the Pacific Coast and abroad, in sending and maintaining local agents and representatives to the Hawaiian Islands for the purpose of competition with the local wholesale and jobbing trade, by quoting and selling to the retail trade and consumers;

We, therefore, hereby pledge ourselves to refuse to accept quotations or to receive and examine samples from any commercial travelers or representatives and discourage houses abroad from such action by every means in our power; to the extent, wherever practicable, of withdrawing our patronage from any house in the event of their persistence, after due notification.

The foregoing is not intended to apply to representatives of houses having sole agencies with established local business with houses in the islands, calling on, and transacting business with such houses or firms acting as their local agents, provided their business is entirely confined to such representative firm or firms. Nor shall it apply to the representatives of contractors for large plants of machinery, etc.

H. Hackfeld & Co., Ltd., per J. F. Hamburg, director; Pacific Hardware Co., Ltd., per L. E. Pischke, treasurer and manager; E. O. Hall & Son, Ltd., per William W. Hall, president; Lewis & Co., W. C. Peacock & Co., Ltd., per J. G. Rothwell, vice president; Lovejoy & Co., Washington Mercantile Co., Ltd., per W. E. Barnett, vice president; Henry May & Co., Ltd., per T. May, manager; Henry Waterhouse & Co., Hoffschlager & Co., Ltd., per Robert J. Lange, manager; California Feed Co., Ltd., per T. J. King; M. Phillips & Co., per Lesser; M. S. Gribbaum & Co., Ltd., per C. Bolte, vice president; Theo. H. Davies & Co., Ltd., per T. Clive Davies, director; M. W. McChesney & Sons, Macfarlane & Co., Ltd., per E. C. Macfarlane; Union Feed Co., Ltd., per F. W. Macfarlane, treasurer.

Postoffice Matters. W. A. Robinson, of the Postoffice Department, went to Hilo on the Kinau yesterday to inspect the office there. He will be absent about a week. A number of offices have been made money order offices beginning October 1st. They are as follows: Kahuku and Waimanalo, Oahu; Honokaa, Ooaka and Papaaloa, Hawaii, and Eleale, Kauai.

For sprains, swelling and lameness there is nothing so good as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Try it. For sale by all dealers and druggists. Benson Smith & Co., Ltd., agents, Hawaiian Territory.

The new road will start from Kapiolani Park and follow the general line of the road which leads to the Diamond Head light house. It will not run to the lighthouse, however, but will keep lower down toward the beach, and will skirt the base of the crater, keeping about twelve to fifteen feet above the beach all the way. After passing Diamond Head it will continue in the rear of the little colony of cottages along the beach and will sweep around, touching the edge of the Kaimuki tract, and will return to the rear of Kapiolani Park, coming into the park near the Kapahulu road in all likelihood.

This will make a fine circuit giving beautiful views of the sea, of the mountain and of the city. It will not be some time before the new road will be completed. Superintendent McCandless said yesterday.

He Concedes the Election of H. P. Baldwin on the Island of Maui. Bob Wilcox and D. Kalauekalan returned yesterday morning by the Mauna Loa from their stumping trip on Molokai. During their absence they visited Kaunakakai, Kahala and Halawa. Early last Saturday morning Bob, Kalauekalan and Wilson White boarded a sloop named Volante at Halawa and sailed for Kaulaupapa. They reached their destination at 11:45 o'clock a. m., and tied their boat alongside the wharf. At 12 m. the stumping of the Home Ruler leaders began. The light of the day was opened by D. Kalauekalan, who spoke for an hour followed by William White and Bob Wilcox. Wilcox said yesterday: "We had a large and very enthusiastic attendance at Kaulaupapa. The meeting was closed with one of the old songs about me and Hawaii Pond. Leaving the harbor settlement we started for Lahaina. Fully convinced of the independence of the day at Molokai. Then the fun came. There was no wind, and we were almost two days on our way to Lahaina. On Sunday evening at 9 o'clock we reached Lahaina, and a half hour later we left there for Lahaina. We arrived at Honolulu early Monday morning. We telephoned for a carriage from there, and soon we were at Lahaina proper. The Independent party is strong at Lahaina."

On being asked about the prospects of the Republican party, Wilcox said: "It is almost an assured fact that H. P. Baldwin will be elected. The Republican party is pretty strong at Wailuku and East Maui."

When asked about the Independent Democratic trouble in Wailuku, he continued: "The Democrats are trying to get a fusion, but it is impossible for them to do it. They have taken a number of our candidates and it is likely that we will put up a new slate altogether. The central committee has the matter in hand now. The Democrats have no show on Maui."

When asked about his prospects for Congress, Wilcox said: "I think I will be strongly supported by the inhabitants of the leper island and the Mauians."

Miss Graydon will read a paper on Alaska at the meeting of the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions at Central Union Church this afternoon.

Alaska at the meeting of the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions at Central Union Church this afternoon.

Alaska at the meeting of the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions at Central Union Church this afternoon.

Alaska at the meeting of the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions at Central Union Church this afternoon.

Alaska at the meeting of the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions at Central Union Church this afternoon.

Alaska at the meeting of the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions at Central Union Church this afternoon.

Alaska at the meeting of the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions at Central Union Church this afternoon.

ROUTINE MATTERS IN THE COUNCIL

Several Applications for Licenses—Cotton Brothers Get Contract.

Aside from the consideration of the opinion of Attorney General Dole on the matter of the increase of taxation, the Governor's council did little business yesterday.

Treasurer Lansing read a communication from High Sheriff Brown regarding the publication of notices regarding public vehicles. He said that all these notices were out and he wished to have more of them printed. The matter was referred to Mr. McCandless, as it came more directly under his department.

The Hilo-Kohala Railroad sent in a report of its meeting on Monday, when an election of officers was held, and gave the list of the new officers. It was also stated that the charter of the company had been accepted and that the capital stock had been increased to $3,500,000.

A number of applications for liquor licenses were presented by Mr. Lansing. The application of the Waikiki Inn for a renewal of its license was granted. P. Cockett was granted a light wine and beer license for a place to be located at Waikapu, Maui. A letter was received from H. Wida, asking that he be granted permission to remove the location of the place for which he had been recently granted a license from the Patzig building to the corner of Nuuanu and Merchant streets. H. Harman asked for a merchant's license for the Patzig building, but action on this application was deferred.

Mr. McCandless read the bids which had been received for the construction of the School and Boretania street bridges, which were published in the Advertiser yesterday. He was given authority to go ahead with letting the contract, and he has practically decided to award the contracts to Cotton Brothers, who were the lowest bidders for the work.

THE PASSING OF AN OLD CHIEFESS Lydia Pi koi Kamakala, Aunt of Prince David Dies in This City.

One of the high chiefesses of the old regime, Lydia Pi koi Kamakala, died yesterday morning at her residence on Kinau street. Mrs. Kamakala was an aunt of Prince David Kawanakoa and of Prince Cupid Kalanian'ole, and came from the royal family of Kauai, of which Kaumuali'i was the last of the line. Her mother was a sister of King Kalakaua's father.

While thus of royal blood, Mrs. Kamakala did not take any active part in politics, and lived a somewhat secluded life. She was thrice married, her last husband surviving her. She was quite wealthy, and at one time was the owner of the Wilcox property makai of King street. She had but one son, by her first husband. At the time of her death she was sixty years of age.

The funeral is announced to take place at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the Catholic Cathedral.

One of the high chiefesses of the old regime, Lydia Pi koi Kamakala, died yesterday morning at her residence on Kinau street. Mrs. Kamakala was an aunt of Prince David Kawanakoa and of Prince Cupid Kalanian'ole, and came from the royal family of Kauai, of which Kaumuali'i was the last of the line. Her mother was a sister of King Kalakaua's father.

While thus of royal blood, Mrs. Kamakala did not take any active part in politics, and lived a somewhat secluded life. She was thrice married, her last husband surviving her. She was quite wealthy, and at one time was the owner of the Wilcox property makai of King street. She had but one son, by her first husband. At the time of her death she was sixty years of age.

The funeral is announced to take place at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the Catholic Cathedral.

One of the high chiefesses of the old regime, Lydia Pi koi Kamakala, died yesterday morning at her residence on Kinau street. Mrs. Kamakala was an aunt of Prince David Kawanakoa and of Prince Cupid Kalanian'ole, and came from the royal family of Kauai, of which Kaumuali'i was the last of the line. Her mother was a sister of King Kalakaua's father.

While thus of royal blood, Mrs. Kamakala did not take any active part in politics, and lived a somewhat secluded life. She was thrice married, her last husband surviving her. She was quite wealthy, and at one time was the owner of the Wilcox property makai of King street. She had but one son, by her first husband. At the time of her death she was sixty years of age.

The funeral is announced to take place at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the Catholic Cathedral.

One of the high chiefesses of the old regime, Lydia Pi koi Kamakala, died yesterday morning at her residence on Kinau street. Mrs. Kamakala was an aunt of Prince David Kawanakoa and of Prince Cupid Kalanian'ole, and came from the royal family of Kauai, of which Kaumuali'i was the last of the line. Her mother was a sister of King Kalakaua's father.

While thus of royal blood, Mrs. Kamakala did not take any active part in politics, and lived a somewhat secluded life. She was thrice married, her last husband surviving her. She was quite wealthy, and at one time was the owner of the Wilcox property makai of King street. She had but one son, by her first husband. At the time of her death she was sixty years of age.

The funeral is announced to take place at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the Catholic Cathedral.

One of the high chiefesses of the old regime, Lydia Pi koi Kamakala, died yesterday morning at her residence on Kinau street. Mrs. Kamakala was an aunt of Prince David Kawanakoa and of Prince Cupid Kalanian'ole, and came from the royal family of Kauai, of which Kaumuali'i was the last of the line. Her mother was a sister of King Kalakaua's father.

While thus of royal blood, Mrs. Kamakala did not take any active part in politics, and lived a somewhat secluded life. She was thrice married, her last husband surviving her. She was quite wealthy, and at one time was the owner of the Wilcox property makai of King street. She had but one son, by her first husband. At the time of her death she was sixty years of age.

The funeral is announced to take place at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the Catholic Cathedral.

One of the high chiefesses of the old regime, Lydia Pi koi Kamakala, died yesterday morning at her residence on Kinau street. Mrs. Kamakala was an aunt of Prince David Kawanakoa and of Prince Cupid Kalanian'ole, and came from the royal family of Kauai, of which Kaumuali'i was the last of the line. Her mother was a sister of King Kalakaua's father.

While thus of royal blood, Mrs. Kamakala did not take any active part in politics, and lived a somewhat secluded life. She was thrice married, her last husband surviving her. She was quite wealthy, and at one time was the owner of the Wilcox property makai of King street. She had but one son, by her first husband. At the time of her death she was sixty years of age.

The funeral is announced to take place at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the Catholic Cathedral.

One of the high chiefesses of the old regime, Lydia Pi koi Kamakala, died yesterday morning at her residence on Kinau street. Mrs. Kamakala was an aunt of Prince David Kawanakoa and of Prince Cupid Kalanian'ole, and came from the royal family of Kauai, of which Kaumuali'i was the last of the line. Her mother was a sister of King Kalakaua's father.

While thus of royal blood, Mrs. Kamakala did not take any active part in politics, and lived a somewhat secluded life. She was thrice married, her last husband surviving her. She was quite wealthy, and at one time was the owner of the Wilcox property makai of King street. She had but one son, by her first husband. At the time of her death she was sixty years of age.

The funeral is announced to take place at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the Catholic Cathedral.

One of the high chiefesses of the old regime, Lydia Pi koi Kamakala, died yesterday morning at her residence on Kinau street. Mrs. Kamakala was an aunt of Prince David Kawanakoa and of Prince Cupid Kalanian'ole, and came from the royal family of Kauai, of which Kaumuali'i was the last of the line. Her mother was a sister of King Kalakaua's father.

While thus of royal blood, Mrs. Kamakala did not take any active part in politics, and lived a somewhat secluded life. She was thrice married, her last husband surviving her. She was quite wealthy, and at one time was the owner of the Wilcox property makai of King street. She had but one son, by her first husband. At the time of her death she was sixty years of age.

MERCHANTS IN ARMS AGAINST DRUMMERS

That the merchants of the city are determined in their stand against the manner of doing business shown by some commercial travelers who have been coming to Hawaii since the islands became a Territory is evidenced by the signed agreement which they have prepared, whereby they promise to refuse further business to them.

This letter is of considerable length, and goes fully into the reasons of this stand. It is as follows:

Whereas: The Hawaiian Islands have a very limited area, and a total population of 120,000, of whom only 15,000 are of the white races, thus limiting the consuming classes and the amount of possible trade;

Whereas: There are practically no cities and towns other than Honolulu and Hilo; all other settlements being mere adjuncts to some individual plantation or landing, scarcely ever reaching the importance of a small village;

Whereas: The great distance from the main or other land, limits the area in which we may dispose of merchandise, and renders overstocking quite possible, which possibility is now increased;

Whereas: We are obliged to carry heavy lines of goods, both in quantity and variety;

Whereas: Certain manufacturing wholesale and jobbing houses located in the States, who are constantly soliciting and receiving in a greater or less degree our patronage, have chosen in some instances to establish in the Hawaiian Islands local representatives, and others send traveling men to every hamlet and country store soliciting trade, and at the same time ask our favors and patronage.

Whereas: The same parties, instead of adjusting themselves to the trade conditions of the islands, are pursuing a policy that can do them little ultimate good, but are producing only demoralization;

Whereas: Certain of these parties are, in their ignorance, sending their lowest quotations broadcast to the most trifling dealers to such an extent that it is not only injurious but ridiculous;

Whereas: We believe there are certain well defined and recognized principles of business that are being violated in a manner by the parties referred to, destructive to all business welfare, and which, they themselves would not submit to in their own territory;

Therefore, We, the undersigned wholesale merchants and manufacturers, and others on the Pacific Coast and abroad, in sending and maintaining local agents and representatives to the Hawaiian Islands for the purpose of competition with the local wholesale and jobbing trade, by quoting and selling to the retail trade and consumers;

We, therefore, hereby pledge ourselves to refuse to accept quotations or to receive and examine samples from any commercial travelers or representatives and discourage houses abroad from such action by every means in our power; to the extent, wherever practicable, of withdrawing our patronage from any house in the event of their persistence, after due notification.

The foregoing is not intended to apply to representatives of houses having sole agencies with established local business with houses in the islands, calling on, and transacting business with such houses or firms acting as their local agents, provided their business is entirely confined to such representative firm or firms. Nor shall it apply to the representatives of contractors for large plants of machinery, etc.

H. Hackfeld & Co., Ltd., per J. F. Hamburg, director; Pacific Hardware Co., Ltd., per L. E. Pischke, treasurer and manager; E. O. Hall & Son, Ltd., per William W. Hall, president; Lewis & Co., W. C. Peacock & Co., Ltd., per J. G. Rothwell, vice president; Lovejoy & Co., Washington Mercantile Co., Ltd., per W. E. Barnett, vice president; Henry May & Co., Ltd., per T. May, manager; Henry Waterhouse & Co., Hoffschlager & Co., Ltd., per Robert J. Lange, manager; California Feed Co., Ltd., per T. J. King; M. Phillips & Co., per Lesser; M. S. Gribbaum & Co., Ltd., per C. Bolte, vice president; Theo. H. Davies & Co., Ltd., per T. Clive Davies, director; M. W. McChesney & Sons, Macfarlane & Co., Ltd., per E. C. Macfarlane; Union Feed Co., Ltd., per F. W. Macfarlane, treasurer.

Postoffice Matters. W. A. Robinson, of the Postoffice Department, went to Hilo on the Kinau yesterday to inspect the office there. He will be absent about a week. A number of offices have been made money order offices beginning October 1st. They are as follows: Kahuku and Waimanalo, Oahu; Honokaa, Ooaka and Papaaloa, Hawaii, and Eleale, Kauai.

For sprains, swelling and lameness there is nothing so good as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Try it. For sale by all dealers and druggists. Benson Smith & Co., Ltd., agents, Hawaiian Territory.

The new road will start from Kapiolani Park and follow the general line of the road which leads to the Diamond Head light house. It will not run to the lighthouse, however, but will keep lower down toward the beach, and will skirt the base of the crater, keeping about twelve to fifteen feet above the beach all the way. After passing Diamond Head it will continue in the rear of the little colony of cottages along the beach and will sweep around, touching the edge of the Kaimuki tract, and will return to the rear of Kapiolani Park, coming into the park near the Kapahulu road in all likelihood.

This will make a fine circuit giving beautiful views of the sea, of the mountain and of the city. It will not be some time before the new road will be completed. Superintendent McCandless said yesterday.

He Concedes the Election of H. P. Baldwin on the Island of Maui. Bob Wilcox and D. Kalauekalan returned yesterday morning by the Mauna Loa from their stumping trip on Molokai. During their absence they visited Kaunakakai, Kahala and Halawa. Early last Saturday morning Bob, Kalauekalan and Wilson White boarded a sloop named Volante at Halawa and sailed for Kaulaupapa. They reached their destination at 11:45 o'clock a. m., and tied their boat alongside the wharf. At 12 m. the stumping of the Home Ruler leaders began. The light of the day was opened by D. Kalauekalan, who spoke for an hour followed by William White and Bob Wilcox. Wilcox said yesterday: "We had a large and very enthusiastic attendance at Kaulaupapa. The meeting was closed with one of the old songs about me and Hawaii Pond. Leaving the harbor settlement we started for Lahaina. Fully convinced of the independence of the day at Molokai. Then the fun came. There was no wind, and we were almost two days on our way to Lahaina. On Sunday evening at 9 o'clock we reached Lahaina, and a half hour later we left there for Lahaina. We arrived at Honolulu early Monday morning. We telephoned for a carriage from there, and soon we were at Lahaina proper. The Independent party is strong at Lahaina."

On being asked about the prospects of the Republican party, Wilcox said: "It is almost an assured fact that H. P. Baldwin will be elected. The Republican party is pretty strong at Wailuku and East Maui."

When asked about the Independent Democratic trouble in Wailuku, he continued: "The Democrats are trying to get a fusion, but it is impossible for them to do it. They have taken a number of our candidates and it is likely that we will put up a new slate altogether. The central committee has the matter in hand now. The Democrats have no show on Maui."

When asked about his prospects for Congress, Wilcox said: "I think I will be strongly supported by the inhabitants of the leper island and the Mauians."

Miss Graydon will read a paper on Alaska at the meeting of the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions at Central Union Church this afternoon.

Alaska at the meeting of the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions at Central Union Church this afternoon.

Alaska at the meeting of the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions at Central Union Church this afternoon.

Alaska at the meeting of the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions at Central Union Church this afternoon.

Alaska at the meeting of the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions at Central Union Church this afternoon.

Alaska at the meeting of the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions at Central Union Church this afternoon.

Alaska at the meeting of the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions at Central Union Church this afternoon.

Alaska at the meeting of the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions at Central Union Church this afternoon.

Down Again

In prices is the market for flour and feed, and we follow it closely. Send us your orders and they will be filled at the lowest market price.

The matter of 5 or 10 cents upon a hundred pounds of feed should not concern you as much as the quality, as poor feed is dear at any price.

We Carry Only the Best. When you want the Best Hay Feed or Grain, at the Right Prices, order from CALIFORNIA FEED CO. TELEPHONE 121.

The Bank of Hawaii LIMITED.

Incorporated Under the Laws of the Republic of Hawaii.

CAPITAL $400,000.00 OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS: Chas. M. Cooke, President; F. C. Jones, Vice-President; C. H. Cooke, Cashier; F. C. Atherton, Assistant Cashier.

Directors: Henry Waterhouse, Tom May, F. W. Macfarlane, E. D. Tenney, J. A. McCandless.

Solicits the Accounts of Firms, Corporations, Trusts, Individuals, and will promptly and carefully attend to all business connected with banking entrusted to it. Sell and Purchase Foreign Exchange, Issue Letters of Credit.

SAVINGS DEPARTMENT. Ordinary and Term Deposits received and interest allowed in accordance with rules and conditions printed in pass books, copies of which may be had on application. Judd Building, Fort Street.

Wm. G. Irwin & Co., LIMITED. Fire and Marine Insurance A/gts.

AGENTS FOR THE Royal Insurance Company of Liverpool, Alliance Assurance Company of London, Alliance, Marine and General Assurance Co., Ltd., of London, Scottish Union National Insurance Company of Edinburgh, Wilhelm of Madgeburg General Insurance Company, Associated Assurance Co., Ltd., of Munich and Berlin.

THE White House 420 FORT ST. HONOLULU.

Special Sale OF HOUSE Furnishing Goods

Bed Spreads, 75c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50.

Lace Curtains, $1.40, $1.50, $2.25, and $3.00 a pair.

Mosquito Nets, 90 inch, 10 yards, $3.50 apiece.

Cotton Huck Towels, 50c, $1.00, $1.50, and $2.00 a dozen.

Linen Huck Towels, $2.00, $3.50, $4.00, $5.00 a dozen.

Table Linen, 63 inches wide, 75c, 85c, $1.00, and $1.25 a yard.

Napkins, $1.00, $1.50, $1.75, $2.00, and $2.50 a dozen.

Napkins. In red, with fringe, 75c, $1.00, and $1.25 a dozen.

Sheetings, 3-4, 9-4, 1-4, at all prices.

MAIL ADDRESS: American Dry Goods Association.

P. O. Box 100, HONOLULU.